

Revised peace plan.

By: Ricardo Pires Correa Franco.

In the missile crisis in Cuba, the US removed the missiles near the USSR and the USSR removed the missiles near the US.

The former countries of the USSR can even join NATO, but they cannot have NATO long-range missiles on them.

Putin and Zelensky should talk without any personal interests and represent only the interests of their peoples.

Putin should recognize the independence, sovereignty and borders of Ukraine prior to the invasion of Crimea and present a timetable for the total return of the occupied territories.

Zelensky must recognize his own guilt, forcing Putin to make the decision to invade Ukraine and promote the union of the Russian and Ukrainian peoples, re-establishing trade relations and allowing access to important areas of military interest.

European and Chinese interests that harm the Russian and/or Ukrainian peoples should be ignored.

American interests must be shared with the Russian and Ukrainian peoples.

Putin and Zelensky just need to respect each other for representing their peoples.

Meetings can discuss and monitor the execution of the peace plan and an American court can act with sanctioning power over countries with irregular actions.

Other issues can also be discussed, but this could be the basis.
